SAVE MAINE WATER POWERS

Governor Milliken's Inaugural Address
(Jan. 2, 1919)

Said:—"We are agreed that Maine water powers ought to be reserved for the use and benefit of Maine people, that no public right in these powers should be surrendered to foreign or private interests, that the property rights of those who have invested largely in a development of water powers within our State should be scrupulously protected and that the further development of water powers should be encouraged for the purpose of furnishing light and power at reasonable rates not only to industry and for domestic use in cities and towns but also along country roads and upon the farms."

Governor Parkhurst's Inaugural Address (January 6, 1921)

"More than seventy-five per cent of the power now used in the United States is produced from coal; more than seventy per cent of all coal mined is used in making power, and coal furnishes more than a third of the freight tonnage carried on our railroads. The economic difficulties, experienced in obtaining and transporting coal and of producing from it low cost power, constitutes a serious handicap that is being overcome to a great degree in Maine by hydro-electric development of our water powers. Such development by private capital under State regulation, should be encouraged by conservative legislation protecting capital in its investment as to principal and interest, but always subject to the provision that power developed must be used in Maine, for power must be made available before we can attract manufacturing and agricultural growth to utilize it. The difficulties mentioned are forcing large users of power in manufacturing or in transportation to seek hydro-electric power, and Maine's ability to furnish this power will bring many industries into the State and assure the growth of existing industries provided we can guarantee manufacturing and agricultural interests transportation of needed raw materials and of their finished products."

Governor Percival P. Baxter of Maine, said:

Retain Our Own Hydro-Electricity

"Maine's policy of keeping her water powers (hydro-electricity) within the State already has been justified."
"If we are patient and are not stampeded by pleas of capitalists, before long our water powers will be developed both for our own expanding industries as well as for those that will move into our State to obtain here the power that is essential to their prosperity. Water power magnates, since New York and Canada are seriously considering the adoption of a policy similar to Maine's, are beginning to realize that the situation has materially changed."
"Maine people, however, need continuously to be on guard for there are forces at work to break down Maine's policy. Only as recently as three years ago the well planned attack that was to be made upon it was frustrated by unforeseen events. The first move was to come from Washington, to be supplemented by others from within our borders, and with the influences that were gathering in support of this attack it had an excellent chance of being successful."
"Every Maine power charter should be amended so as to prevent the power companies from taking electricity out of Maine."

Governor Brewster in His Inaugural Address, Jan. 8, 1925, said:

"Development of our water resources by private capital under adequate and proper State control seems to me the course best calculated to stimulate their use in accordance with our American traditions of private initiative as against public ownership. This was the pledge of the last Republican platform together with a pledge to continue our long established policy of preventing the exportation of hydro-electric power from our bounds by every legitimate means that we possessed."

My best efforts are pledged to the people of Maine to continue the policy so courageously adopted and advocated by Governors Milliken, Parkhurst, Baxter and Brewster. My opponent is on record as opposed to this policy. I again challenge him to defend it.

Sincerely yours,
Edward C. Moran, Jr.,
Candidate for Governor of Maine.

NEWSPAPER HISTORY
The Rockland Gazette was established in 1846. In 1874 the Courier was established and consolidated with the Gazette in 1882. The Free Press was established in 1875 and in 1891 changed its name to the Tribune. These papers consolidated March 17, 1897.

A JUST COMPLAINT

Rockport Board of Trade
Wants Town To Have Credit For Its Own.

Editor of The Courier-Gazette:—

The Megunticook Golf Club is located entirely in Rockport and has been taxed in Rockport and taxes paid to Rockport for many years. If it was ever located in Camden it was before the division of the towns, about 1892, and I am very certain it was not in existence at that date. Beauchamp Point is also in Rockport and the estates of Cyrus H. K. Curtis and Edward Bok are located in Rockport. Part of the Samoset Hotel is in Rockport. Warrenton is in Rockport. The cabins at Oak Grove and the H. D. Barrows cabins are in Rockport. Oakland Park is in Rockport. Mirror Lake is in Rockport.

Every time Camden or Rockland claims our territory or our summer residents we are at a disadvantage. This has been going on for over 30 years, to my knowledge, and there is no justice in it. There is nothing to warrant such a state of affairs. We subscribe to the local papers and strange to relate The Courier-Gazette has offered us more than the Camden Herald.

Our leading business men and the members of our Board of Trade wish to enter a dignified protest and would like some assurance that we may be allowed in your columns our real estate and citizens, whether summer or year round. C. W. Steward, Sec. Rockport Board of Trade.

[The Courier-Gazette frankly acknowledges the justice of Secretary Steward's rebuke. This paper has fallen into the practice complained of in some instances because the summer residents themselves name Camden as their place of address and print the same upon their stationery. Some of the names listed by Dr. Steward this paper has always made it a practice to give their proper Rockport location. We regard the point as well taken and shall hope to avoid further occasion of complaint upon the part of our Rockport friends.—Ed.]

OVER SEWALL'S CREEK

Maine Central Building New Bridge
For Passage of Heavier Trains

The Maine Central Railroad bridge over Sewall's Creek is to be rebuilt and made stronger to withstand the heavier trains which the railroad proposes to operate over the Knox & Lincoln branch. The work will go on without interruption of present traffic and may require six to eight weeks.

New concrete abutments are to be put in and it is expected that fully 250 yards will be poured. New and heavier stone is also to be added. The steel, fabricated for the new structure, has already arrived.

A spur track has been stretched at the west approach to the bridge for the accommodation of the special cars carrying the hoister, steam pump, concrete mixer and all the equipment necessary for such work.

The Maine Central Railroad proposes to use much heavier locomotives on the haul through Bath between Portland and Rockland and the trains are much heavier and longer than they used to be, thus effecting an economy in operation.—Bath Times.

READY FOR WHIRLWIND TOUR

Republican Candidates Will Spend Thursday and Friday
In Knox County—Mass Meetings At Night.

Knox County is in the pathway of the Republican whirlwind tour Thursday and Friday of this week. Thursday will be devoted entirely to the mainland with a mass meeting at Camden Opera House in the evening. Friday the candidates will visit North Haven and Vinalhaven, and returning to the mainland will visit the southern tier of towns with a wind-up meeting at Masonic Temple, Rockland in the evening.

In the party besides the Knox County candidates will be Senator Frederick Hale, Congressman Wallace H. White, Jr., Wm. Tudor Gardiner, candidate for governor; Daniel T. Field, chairman of the Republican State Committee; and Mrs. Eva C. Mason, vice chairman of the Republican State Committee.

Nobody need be afraid that there will be long speeches. The candidates are to speak very briefly, possibly only one in each place—the principal object being to meet the voters personally and have a social get together. The Camden Band will furnish music at the rally in Camden Thursday night. Here is the itinerary:

THURSDAY

9 a. m.—Hope Corner.
10 a. m.—Appleton Post Office.
11 a. m.—Washington Post Office.
12 M.—Union Common, with luncheon.
2 p. m.—Warren Post Office.
3 p. m.—Friendship Post Office.
4 p. m.—Cushing Town Hall.
5 p. m.—Thomaston Post Office.
6 p. m.—Rockport Post Office.
8 p. m.—Camden Opera House.

FRIDAY

9 a. m.—North Haven Post Office.
10 to 12—Vinalhaven Memorial Square, with luncheon at Lane's Island.
3 30 p. m.—Tenant's Harbor Post Office.
4 p. m.—Long Cove.
5 p. m.—South Thomaston Post Office.
5 30 p. m.—Owl's Head Post Office.
8 p. m.—Rockland, Masonic Temple.

There is a possibility that the North Haven meeting may be delayed somewhat beyond the announced hour, on account of the uncertainty as to transportation arrangements.

WHY A HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN?

Reasons Given For the Forthcoming Financial Drive of Local Institution—What Will Be Accomplished.

"Why is the Knox County General Hospital to have a money raising campaign this year?" came a query. "I think the plant is extremely good as it is."

The hospital is to have its campaign to pay off the debt incurred through many years of service for no general hospital with a preponderance of patients unable to pay can hope to fully pay all expenses. The plant now is truly a good one, modern in every detail, but the old debt amounting to $86,000 carries interest charges that make up a large part of the annual budget and prevents the institution from making both ends meet—hence the drive.

Knox County General Hospital has served this community faithfully and well for a quarter century and during that period it has had a consistent growth. Today from the material standpoint it is completed—as fine a modern, fireproof hospital as one may find anywhere, well equipped and organized for competent and economical operation. Its staff is without superior, a carefully balanced group of expert craftsmen devoted to their work. The personnel of nurses and pupil nurses is exceptionally good and an excellent training school is conducted in conjunction with the hospital.

The $86,000 arrears has been gradually accumulating through the years and during the time of reconstruction operating expenses were necessarily higher than at normal times. Then too came extra equipment charges for the new wing tending to still further increase the deficit. With the completed hospital operating efficiently the budget would very nearly balance providing the heavy interest charges could be clipped from the overhead.

The time has come to pay these notes and free the institution from its load and to that end the great body of people served by the hospital, summer residents and local folks as well, are uniting shoulder to shoulder to raise $100,000 and thus clear the burden and leave a nest egg toward future endowment.

A DEER ISLE BOY

William L. Robbins Comes Back To
Maine To Edit the Brunswick Record.

William L. Robbins of Springfield, Mass., succeeds Robinson C. Tobey as editor and manager of the Brunswick Record. Mr. Robbins was born in Deer Isle and received his education in the schools of Bath. He was a printer in the office of The Bath Times, and in 1919 went to Springfield as inspector of printing of Good Housekeeping magazine, later going to the Phelps Publishing Co. Mr. Robbins was employed by the Strathmore Paper Co. of Miltonague Mass., in charge of the printing department of the advertising division of the company.

At Springfield he was manager of a well known printing plant, and later at Greenfield, Mass., he was advertising manager of the Greenfield Tap and Die Corp. After six years he went to Holyoke, Mass., as sales ad promotion manager of the Cowan Truck Co., later being transferred to Buffalo, N. Y., in charge of the sales office of that same company. He returned to Springfield as New England sales manager for a Buffalo advertising agency and has remained there until going to the Record.

MUCH IN DEMAND

Wilbert Snow To Read Maine
Coast Poems At Spruce
Head.

Those who heard Wilbert Snow read his Maine coast poems last year will be glad of the opportunity to hear him on the evening of Aug. 29. As a lecturer and reader Mr. Snow is much in demand all over New England. Last spring he gave readings to Teachers' Institutes in New Hampshire and received this endorsement from Commissioner of Education Butterfield:

"The most satisfactory Institute speaker of my experience was Prof. Snow of Wesleyan."
Oct. 26 Mr. Snow is to appear twice before the Maine State Teachers' Association, once to talk on modern American Poetry and read his own poems, and once to talk on "Teaching Poetry in the Schools."

The reading next week is to be in the Community Hall at Spruce Head, and the proceeds are to go for the improvement of the Spruce Head roads. He will be assisted by musicians in the vicinity who are interested in helping the same cause, and among whom is George Van Wert, whose playing on the violin was so acceptable at the reading of last year.

From 5 to 7 the ladies of the Community Club will serve an excellent supper in the hall at a very moderate price. The reading will begin at 7.30 and the admission price will be 50 cents.

JOHN HOWARD

The many friends of John, 7-year-old son of Fred G. Howard, were much grieved to hear of his sudden death Aug. 16 in Fairhaven, Mass., where he, with his grandmother, Mrs. H. L. Howard, was visiting his aunt, Mrs. F. E. Arnold. His death was an especially severe blow to his grandmother, who has had the care of him since his mother died during his infancy. Little John was an exceptionally bright and attractive child and made friends wherever he went, as the many beautiful flowers and expressions of sympathy attested. Services were held at the residence Sunday and were conducted by Rev. B. P. Browne.

ITS THIRD PICNIC

Woman's Educational Club
Has Nice Outing and Hears
Good Speakers.

Two-score of the faithful and enthusiastic members of the Woman's Educational Club met Friday at the home of Mrs. Lena Merrill where they enjoyed their third picnic of the season. Mrs. Clara Emery gave a forceful talk on Prohibition and Mrs. Carl R. Gray, wife of the president of the Union Pacific Railroad, who modestly says she is not a "preacher" but a Bible teacher, explained the wide distinction between the two and proved her right to the title of teacher by her able and scholarly address.

She touched upon the Prohibition law. The laws are good if properly enforced. Man's laws have been sadly disregarded. For correction of the common faults of the present generation, a complete regeneration of the homes would work much improvement.

Mrs. Gray gave convincing evidence of the difference between "Christianity" and "religion." Christianity is new life; religion belief. "In reading your Bible," said Mrs. Gray, "be zealous and observe who is speaking, and to whom."

Appreciation of Mrs. Gray's address was universal, many voicing the opinion it was the best they ever heard. Mrs. E. C. Moran, Jr., spoke on the "Retention of Water Powers of Maine." She said: "People without foreseeing acumen, thinking to be thrifty, might say, 'and why not export our surplus of hydro-electric energy if we have all we can use?' But have we? The Census of 1920 tells us that 91 percent of the farms in Maine have no rural electrification. And rural electrification has been found reasonably profitable in districts where it has been tried. Furthermore, why did our State hold to the Fernald Law and find it good and profitable in 20 years if export is so desirable?"

A good deal has been said concerning regulation. If we export power there is no question but that it constitutes interstate commerce and Maine loses the right to control and regulate. It passes then to Federal hands. Isn't it plausible that our own State commission would have Maine's best interest at heart rather than a Federal board? Let Maine hold her waters in trust for the use of the people of the State, together with the right to control and regulate them. Maine will eventually provide ample market for all power within the State, and if we can have cheap power industries will flock to Maine. "Economically it is generally conceded that a monopoly, if powerful enough, becomes a dangerous thing. Power promoters have tried to fasten themselves on the people by a $25,000 publicity program. They have circulated legislators, clubs, schools and colleges. The secretary of the National Educational Association has told of the money expended by utilities for propaganda, salaries to professors, publishers of text books, and the people as a whole. A specific instance is cited of a publisher being bribed to omit reference to the insult offered to help seat Senator Smith. When the power interest try to palm off propaganda as news and editorial opinion instead of educational advertising they tend to ruin their position."

"Furthermore it is a significant fact that has come to my knowledge—a large percent of all attorneys of Maine are retained by the power companies. Some of your own Rockland lawyers hesitate to come out against export because they derive a large income from just that source. Further it is to my certain knowledge that a candidate for high office of the State with the proposition that if he would change his views on the water power the latter knew where he could 'shake down' $25,000 for his campaign. It is well to ponder over this. The Power trust isn't spending enormous sums for beneficent purposes; they are spending them in order to feather their own nests. We are menaced by insidious methods that many of us know not of."

The report of the membership drive was pleasing. Mrs. Shirley Williams of Thomaston being "highline." The study books have arrived. Those who have ordered can get them from the secretary. This is the largest federated women's club in the State having a paid up membership of over 650, and having had 1200 members during its eight years of existence. Its founder and president Mrs. Mary Perry Rich has never missed a meeting during the time and among its members there has never been a disagreement, even if it is a woman's club.

There is to be another picnic in the near future—with fine speakers assured.

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

"LOVE WILL FIND OUT THE WAY"
Over the mountains
And over the waves,
Under the footfalls
And under the graves,
Under floods that are deepest,
Which Neptune obeys,
Over rocks that are deepest,
Love will find out the way.

Where there is no place
For the glow-worm to lie,
Where there is no space
For receipt of a fly,
Where the midge dares not venture,
Least herself fast she lay,
If Love come, he will enter,
And find out the way.

You may esteem him
A child for his might,
Or you may deem him
A coward from his flight;
But she whom Love doth honor
Be comforted from the day,
Set a thousand guards upon her,
Love will find out the way.

Some think to lose him
By having him confined,
And some do suppose him,
Poor thing, to be blind;
But if he's so close you will him,
Do the best that you may,
Blind Love, if ye so call him,
Will find out the way.

You may train the eagle
To stoop to your fist,
Or you may inveigle
The phoenix of the east;
The tiger, ye may move him,
To give over her prey;
But you'll never stop a lover—
He will find out the way.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT
Rockland, Me., Aug. 21, 1928.
I, the undersigned, being the publisher of the above newspaper, do hereby certify that the circulation of the same for the week ending August 18, 1928, was as follows:

For the Lord and serve him in truth with all your heart; for consider how great things he hath done for you. 1 Samuel 12:24.

Gone are the days of the old fashioned political campaigning. Gone are the days of torchlight parades, of flag raisings and transparencies. A new era has dawned, and although we are on the verge of another great presidential campaign there is little to remind the voter of it except occasional editorial references to party issues, and the radio broadcasts. In this State, however, both parties are now engaged in their final effort known as the whirlwind drive, a plan whereby the candidates visit each county, make a few speeches upon salient points of the campaign and give the voters an opportunity to see the nominees for whom they are asked to cast their ballots. The Republican "whirlwind" strikes Knox County Thursday morning, and will devote an entire day to towns on the mainland. Friday the drive will cover the sea to North Haven and Vinhaven, returning in season to visit the towns which could not be covered Thursday. As the concluding feature of each day there will be a mass meeting—Thursday night's in Camden Opera House, and Friday night's in Rockland's Masonic Temple; Democrats and Independents will be cordially welcomed. Senator Hale, Congressman White, and Wm. Tudor Gardner candidate for governor, will be in the party, and all have countless friends in Knox County.

Mussolini in a published article bearing the title "Are Women Fit for Politics?" after a number of remarks pointedly derogatory of the gentler sex, who he says are confident, credulous little animals, inferior to men, concludes that "psychologically women are unfit for politics."

"I am not in favor of women's dabbling in politics," he writes. "Women can imitate but not originate. Even in their own social department of dress-designing they have to call on the ingenuity of the male sex to design and create fashions for them. And in politics it is the same. Women in Parliament are meddlers and muddlers. They have forced their way in and the male sex has given way either out of courtesy or weakness or a composite of both. Women are essential to life but most certainly not to politics. I say that they are occupying political positions today under sufferance and that there is a feeling deep down in the heart of all men that things political and national would be much easier without the meddling of the fair sex. Women do not really want to enter politics at all. They only do it to seem independent. Secretly and personally they are rather bored with the idea and have very few political thoughts of their own."

It is painfully apparent that there is no intention on Signor Mussolini's part of coming to this country and running for office.

"Do you know what I got from those two 'greasing coupon' ads? Well, I greased 140 cars just that one week!" said S. Nilo Spear, proprietor of Nemo's garage, Spring street. This advertisement in question was run by Mr. Spear to introduce the new electric greasing system he had just installed, and they worked as his statement proves. He is today setting up a power washing machine using a Niagara pump, the type used on Engine 2 of the fire department. The machine develops air and water pressure of 300 pounds and is very effective. Windows are being cut in the northern and western walls of the washroom for better light. "Service like lightning," says the irrepressible Nilo, in speaking of his electric washing, greasing and brake lining machinery.

The annual Central Maine Fair takes place next week. The vaudeville is headed by the Riding Castellos, America's foremost equestrians with sensation, comedy and cleverness interpreted by the vaudeville act. Marion Drew has a combination juggling and aerial novelty act with the sensational loop the loop. The feature of the fireworks will be the night landing of Col. Lindbergh in his Spirit of St. Louis. The best horses in Maine have been entered for the races. Harry Lee of Augusta will give the word.

The annual ball given by the employees of Grindstone Inn at Winter Harbor, was held at the town hall Thursday evening. Besides the full staff of employees many of the hotel guests attended, as well as members of the summer colony. Music was furnished by O'Brien's orchestra and the dancing, scheduled to terminate at one a. m., was by popular demand, prolonged until midnight. The feature event, the prize waltz, was won by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Newman of Winter Harbor.

A new long distance record for the Rockland diaphone was established this morning when it was played in his Spirit of St. Louis. The best horses in Maine have been entered for the races. Harry Lee of Augusta will give the word.

THE GOLF SEASON

Country Club Busiest of Any Time in Its History—Saturday's Tournament.

Golf at the Country Club loses none of its popularity as the peak of the season is reached. It has been a great summer for transients and this patronage will likely increase each year as the reputation of the Rockland course continues to grow in favor. Golfers who play many of the New England courses compliment Rockland highly and come back to it every opportunity. Meantime the local players are looking forward to the annual cup contest which takes place next month.

The event of this week will be staged Thursday when ten players each from the Rotary Club and the Forty Club meet in their annual challenge contest.

Fifteen players turned in cards at the Saturday tournament, the regular weekly event of the summer. Heavy rains of the night before continued through the forenoon and suggested heavy grounds, but an hour or two of sun and wind brought about fairly satisfactory conditions.

The three winners were closely matched. W. O. Fuller with a net 66, first, D. W. Fuller, net 67, second, and Fred C. Dyer, net 69, third. The scores:

W. O. Fuller 60-24-66
D. W. Fuller 61-25-67
Fred C. Dyer 62-26-69
H. A. Burdum 63-27-70

SHIBLES REUNION

Costume 200 Years Old Is Worn By One of the Entertainers.

Wednesday, Aug. 15, the descendants of John and Mary Shibles held their 40th annual reunion at the home of Capt. and Mrs. A. D. Chadwick in Thomaston. The day and place were ideal for such a gathering and the host and hostess with their splendid committee left nothing undone that could add to one's pleasure and happiness.

About 50 sat down to dinner at tables spread in the basement, which were decorated with goldenrod, flax and baskets of garden flowers, while the favors were sweet sea bouquets. The tables fairly groaned with good things to eat which this hale and hearty family did ample justice to.

Dinner over all repaired to the "barn" which was likewise decorated with greens and cut flowers, with a stage built across one side. The business meeting was presided over by the president, R. J. Shibles, who came from New York for the occasion. "There is Sunshine in the Soul Today" was sung, with Mrs. Petrie at the organ, followed by prayer and the usual address across one side. The second and last run on Camden's tally sheet was made in the fifth inning, when Cole reached first on a fielder's choice, and was driven home by Ogier's triple.

Belfast did not break into the run column until the sixth when a double by Cogan and single by Kunitz reduced Camden's lead by one. The sixth inning brought a double and single for Belfast, but no score, thanks to a quick double play by Cole, Small and Wilson. Belfast did not have a look in next inning, and the game had now come down to the ninth with Camden leading 2 to 1.

BELFAST INCREASES LEAD

But Rockland's Garrison Finish Yesterday Prevented a Walkover—Don't Miss These Last Games!

This Week's Games
Today—Rockland at Belfast (2 games).
Wednesday—Belfast at Rockland.
Thursday—Belfast at Camden.
Friday—Camden at Rockland.
Saturday—Camden at Belfast.

The League Standing
Belfast continues to carry an apparently safe lead in the Maine Coast League race, but lots of things could happen before the week closes. Certain it is that Camden cannot afford to drop many more. The standing:

Won Lost P.C.
Belfast 20 10 .666
Camden 16 14 .533
Rockland 9 21 .300

Camden Wins and Loses

Camden was near to a double victory Saturday, and would have made a significant gain upon the leaders, but for a batting rally which brought an entirely unexpected victory to Belfast.

Rockland proved an easy victim in the opening game and did not look at all like the team which had so easily vanquished Camden the previous night. McGouldrick once more proved himself a mystery to the Lime City outfit, and there were only two stages in the entire game when the latter seemed in the slightest danger of scoring.

Camden scored two runs in the first game. Cole led off with a triple, and was presented with the small lap when Curran threw low to catch Nanigian at second. The latter scored on Wilson's single, but a snappy double play ended the attack.

Camden scored three runs in the third inning when two errors supplemented a double by Ogier and a single by Small. The sixth run was made on two passes and Small's single.

The score:
Camden
Cole, ss 4 2 2 4 2 6 0

(Second Game)

This proved to be a real contest, although not quite so pleasing to the spectators who for eight innings had every reason to believe that the game was all wrapped for delivery at the Parsons headquarters.

Camden was first to score, a triple by Nanigian and a single by Wilson earning a run in the fourth. The second and last run on Camden's tally sheet was made in the fifth inning, when Cole reached first on a fielder's choice, and was driven home by Ogier's triple.

Belfast did not break into the run column until the sixth when a double by Cogan and single by Kunitz reduced Camden's lead by one. The sixth inning brought a double and single for Belfast, but no score, thanks to a quick double play by Cole, Small and Wilson. Belfast did not have a look in next inning, and the game had now come down to the ninth with Camden leading 2 to 1.

Kunitz was out on an easy ground-er, Walls to Wilson and Clancy fled to Nanigian. Not much show now, thought the crowd, and the customary exodus for the gate began.

Klosek who had been holding the visitors so well in hand for eight innings, was not prepared for the cyclone which suddenly struck him, and certainly nobody else was. It was Thurston, the very efficient player-manager of the Belfast team, who injected the first thrill by hitting a liner into center field. The ball landed just in Nanigian for a double.

The next batter was Palement who had made a double in his previous trip to the plate. Realizing that the situation was up to him he fetched a mighty swat at the ball and it went to the track for three bases.

The tickled Belfast supporters saw the score tied, and saw Mackley at bat with a man on third. The best "Mack" could do was a one-sacker, but it was enough. For it gave Belfast a lead of one run, and Camden in the last half of the ninth went out in order.

Weather This Week
 Weather outlook for week in North and Middle Atlantic States: A period of showers at the beginning and again about Thursday. Temperatures near normal most of week except moderately warm in the Middle Atlantic States Wednesday and again on Saturday.

Donald P. Kelsey is moving into his recently purchased home at 473 Old County road.

Thirty-five members of the Kallach family held an enjoyable picnic at Cooper's Beach Sunday.

E. C. Ingraham completed his vacation Sunday and is back on the force with increased avoirdupois as the result of visits to Bowley Hill.

The ladies of Owls Head are planning a chicken supper and dance next Monday night for the benefit of the roads. Rockland is sure to send along a lively delegation.

Thomaston will draw a big quota of Rockland folk Wednesday when the Library Fair will be given on the mall. The reputation of these Thomaston folk is well known when it comes to having a successful fair.

Al. Weston, Boston College football and baseball star, passed through the city Saturday.

Mrs. Thomas Yates has returned with her family to her home in Garden City, L. I.

Misses Martha and Alice Bartlett have sold their house on Ocean street to S. S. Waldron.

The Pilgrim Choir rehearsal will be held Thursday evening this week instead of Saturday.

Rev. Howard Welch of Brewer occupied the Littlefield Memorial church pulpit Sunday morning and evening in Mr. Stuart's absence.

Fred C. Robinson of Union street, Rockport, hands us a full grown albino cucumber with the remark that he never saw the likes of it.

The Lawrence Portland Cement Company fired its second kiln yesterday and is again engaged in capacity production.

Charles E. Crossland has completed his duties as extension editor of the University of Maine college of agriculture. His successor has not been named.

Surveyors have been busy for several days in connection with the new cement concrete highway which is to be built from the Lawrence cement plant into Thomaston.

Mrs. Robert Sylvester, the aged mother of Mrs. E. C. Payson, suffered a broken leg Saturday. The accident is an especially unfortunate one as Mrs. Sylvester is blind and almost helpless from rheumatism.

The Eastern Maine Fair at Bangor opened yesterday. Tomorrow is Governor's Day, and on Thursday comes the great free-for-all with a purse of $1,000. Knox County is sending its usual large delegation.

E. C. Moran, Jr., Democratic gubernatorial candidate, is in Washington County today. Tomorrow and Thursday he will advance his claims in Hancock County, and Friday and Saturday he will be in Penobscot County.

A motor truck driven by Gee See Kee, and occupied by four other Chinamen, was ditched at Glen Cove Sunday afternoon, to its great detriment. The driver and one of the passengers received cuts and bruises. The accident gave rise to an alarming rumor that one of the Chinamen was decapitated.

Martha 6-year-old daughter of Paul Seavey, while playing with other children at the Lymburner home, James street, Saturday afternoon caught her hand in the washing machine, lacerating the palm quite badly. No bones were broken, but five or six stitches had to be taken.

Inasmuch as the Three Quarters of a Century Club meets in Bangor Monday and Penobscot View Grange includes in its membership several who are qualified to become members of the former, the program of the latter, Thursday evening, will have to do with topics suggested by the Bangor gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson O. Packard, Mr. and Mrs. Parks Baker and F. S. Philbrick will tell how they keep young and why they have not grown old. Frank B. Miller and C. E. Gregory will tell about James McCarter and his recent centennial observance and other members will have appropriate selections for the program, musical and otherwise.

Erwin ("Casey") Jones and another young man engaged a room on a street not far from The Courier-Gazette office Saturday. Twenty minutes later a trunk arrived. Ten minutes later Deputy Sheriff Ludwick arrived with a search warrant, much to the dismay of the landlady who conducts a very respectable rooming house. Deputy Ludwick left a man on guard while he went out to locate a key which would fit the suspicious trunk. He was successful in his quest and the trunk yielded 10 gallon tins of alcohol. When the young men arrived at the rooms they found that the liquor had vanished, but that the officers were very much in evidence. The latter found only one key in Jones' possession, but it fitted the trunk. He was sentenced to six months in jail and fined $500 and costs. His companion was discharged. Tirrell for the respondents.

"Service like lightning," says S. Nilo Spear in regard to his new all electric servicing machinery. He washes with electricity, greases with electricity, and has also one of the new brake lining machines. The garage is convenient to Main and Union streets and service is prompt and certain. S. ALL IS READY

For New Belfast Fair Labor Day Week—K. of P. Convention Also.

The program for the 12th annual exhibition of the New Belfast Fair is shaping up very fast. J. H. Cilley, the president of the Association, has charge of the cattle department and exhibition hall and a very fine exhibit has already been promised.

The cattle judging will be done by William Vaughan, Jr., a University of Maine expert, who always gives most excellent satisfaction. It is intended this year to have a night display of some of the choice money winners in this department.

Kenneth Lovejoy will have charge of the Agricultural Hall. Ed. White will be superintendent of midway, as usual. Secretary H. C. Buzzell will superintend the races. Fred S. Jackson has been selected as clerk of the course. N. I. Edminster of Bangor, has been engaged as starter and the race program will commence promptly at 1:30 p. m. each day.

The ladies' fancy work department will be in the competent hands of Mrs. G. J. Paul, Mrs. Lura Ritchie, Mrs. J. W. Jones and Miss Edith Southworth.

The Knights of Pythias Convention to be held during fair week gives every promise of being a great success. It is hoped that 100 candidates will receive their third rank on this occasion. There are 20 lodges in Knox, Lincoln and Waldo Counties and each lodge should furnish, on an average, of at least five candidates.

A baseball tournament will be held during the fair between competing league teams. A good diamond is promised on the fair grounds and a beautiful worthwhile silver trophy will be presented to the winning team.

The race program for Sept. 3 consists of a 2.15 class for a purse of $300, 2.20 class, purse $250; 2.25 class, purse $250. At 2:30 the night show will commence, if it is fair weather.

The night show will give a program of free acts, band concert, vocal solos, cattle exhibition and fireworks. Free acts have been secured from Wirth & Hamid, New York City.

The Belfast Band is always good, and the American Fireworks Co. of Boston will put on the fireworks display. Both free acts and fireworks display are guaranteed to be high class.

A new vaudeville stage will be constructed for this year's acts, with spacious accommodations beneath. The admission to night show will be 25 cents and only 10 cents to grand stand.

Sept. 4 the races will be a 2.15 class, 2.23 class and a 2.28 class with purses of $250 in each. Already many fine horses have been entered and some good racing may be expected, as usual.

Earl Ludwick of Rockland and Miles Jellison of Belfast will serve as judges and this means fair dealing, and that the races will be run off without the long waits.

In a nutshell, The New Belfast Fair promises the best exhibition ever on its grounds.

Mr. Morrow was made an honorary citizen of Puebla and welcomed personally on the highway miles from Puebla when he entered the State by General Fonato Bravo Izquierdo and a large group of the highest State and city officials. The ambassador motored into the city past large crowds and was escorted into the municipal palace past lines of cavalry at salute while bands played the Mexican National anthem.

At formal ceremonies in the audience room of the palace, Mr. Morrow was presented with an official scroll that proclaimed him an honorary citizen by vote of the council of the municipality. Gov. Izquierdo of the municipality presented Mr. Morrow with souvenirs of native woodwork.

The Governor and Mayor Romulo Ofarill escorted Mr. Morrow across the plaza to the famous cathedral of Puebla which is one of the most beautiful and costly buildings in the Republic. There another extraordinary distinction was shown him when the Cathedral bells were rung for him.

The bells have been silent most of the time since the religious laws became effective.

The cottage colony and visitors are unanimous in the desire for a pier at Crescent Beach and the idea has been strongly supported by the management of the Inn. It seems absurd to be so near the water and yet have no place from which to plunge in or to land from boats with any degree of comfort. This condition and the necessity for a pier has been talked of many nights before the crackling fire at the Inn and has resulted in some very real progress. Mrs. A. M. Newbert, a summer resident of many years, started the ball rolling with the recent very successful bridge party which netted $97.50. Last Friday evening Mrs. Joyce Lebing appeared in recital to benefit the same object assisted by Mrs. Ruth Sanborn, Miss Dorothy Stewart and E. P. Keeler of the Kelch circuit and this added another substantial sum to the pier fund. One of the most diligent workers on the whole project is Edward Wendell.

"HOKUM OR BOLOGNA"

Democrat Wonders If This Doesn't Describe Morans Insult Attack.

Edward R. Goodwin of Waterboro, Democratic nominee for representative to Legislature takes the Morans to task for statements contained in literature sent out by the Democratic State Committee, emphasizing particularly that paragraph which says: "The Insults are desirable partners but ruthless exploiters."

Says Mr. Goodwin: "Surely the Morans err when they expect us to believe that the Insults are crooked exploiters and at the same time they advise us to welcome the 'exploiters' and their tainted capital. There is something about the Moran argument that fails to impress one who will listen to both sides of an issue. It does not contain the strength of an argument well founded. It looks as though the propaganda now used against the Insults is a lot of greatly exaggerated 'hokum or bologna.' Apparently both Chairman Moran and Candidate Moran would have fared better had they remained loyal to the Power Plank in the Democratic Party Platform. What is the use of loyal Democrats from all over Maine denouncing their time and their talent drawing up a platform if candidates for high office on their ticket are going to ignore their express wishes. Pattangall was fully as justified in bolting the candidates as the candidates were in bolting the Party Platform. Democrats of Maine may then Power Plank. It looks very much as though some political power from outside our State border has insulted Maine Democrats and destroyed their plank. We don't object to National Democratic forces conducting National campaigns, but we do object to the Democrats of Maine who are capable of dictating their own platform when they assemble in State Convention."
